Regulations

1. Swimmers must be at the meeting point at 09:00 and will be transferred by catamaran to the swim route. Companions may board the catamaran.
2. Swimming will start at 10:00 from the starting point chosen by the organization.
3. The swim routes will finish no later than 13:00. By that time, every swimmer must be out of the water. If anyone is still in the water, they will be evacuated.
4. The swim routes will not have marker buoys. The route will be explained in advance, and once in the water, swimmers must follow the organization's instructions.
5. Wetsuits are optional, although their use is recommended, as the water is usually between 19 and 21°C. In addition, there may be stops to regroup the group or rest a little, since this is a recreational swim and it will not be swum at a race pace. Therefore, the body may not generate enough heat to swim without a wetsuit.
6. Use of a safety buoy (tow float) is mandatory.
7. Swimmers may be split into different groups if the organization considers it appropriate, depending on the distance to be swum and swimming level. Each group will be accompanied by at least one motorboat and kayaks. During the route, the organization may stop some swimmers to regroup them for safety reasons.
8. If any swimmer is not able to continue swimming—due to fatigue or any incident—they must inform the support vessels so they can be picked up. Once on board, the swimmer must follow the skipper's instructions at all times.
9. This is a non-competitive event, so there must be a spirit of camaraderie among all swimmers, and assistance should be provided if any difficulty is detected in another swimmer.
10. Safety kayakers are responsible for providing safety during the event. They must monitor the swimmers and follow the organization's instructions.
11. Registration is personal and non-transferable. Name changes will not be accepted.
12. Once registration is completed, the participant authorizes the recording and publication of images taken by the staff assigned by the organization to cover the event.
